Mauritius solar container communication station Supercapacitor Construction Standards

Overview

How does CIDB work with Mauritius Standards Bureau?

CIDB collaborates with Mauritius Standards Bureau to develop and adopt common standards related to the Construction Industry. The 'Building and Construction Standard Committee' set up under the aegis of the Mauritius Standards Bureau is responsible for the development of common standards on construction.

What types of contracts are used in Mauritius?

In Mauritius, several Standard Forms of Contract are commonly used, including the FIDIC Conditions of Contract, the JCT, the East African Model, and the World Bank Standards Conditions of Contract.

Are supercapacitors a good choice for mission-critical back-up power applications?

Due to their high power density and long life, supercapacitors are ideal for mission-critical back-up power applications. These applications are defined by two major requirements — the ability to rapidly switch to back-up power after a power loss has occurred and the ability to maintain a power supply until longer-term back-up is engaged.

Do supercapacitors need a back-up power supply?

An uninterruptible power supply (UPS) supported by supercapacitors will generally require only seconds of back-up power discharge to give time for the long term power source to start up. Supercapacitors are also used for back-up when integrated into electronic systems.
