Overview

Which Papua New Guinea provinces have solar panels?

Explore Our Solar Energy Projects. TAG Energy has installed solar systems in most of Papua New Guinea's provinces and districts, specifically the Southern Highlands Province, Western Highlands Province, Central Province, East New Britain, Autonomous Region of Bougainville, Samarai Murua District, Popondetta, and the National Capital District.

Does Papua New Guinea have energy access?

Papua New Guinea (PNG) is the Pacific's largest country with one of the world's lowest rates of energy access (13%). To address this development challenge, Australia, Japan, New Zealand, and the USA joined hands with the PNG government in late 2018 and signed the PNG Electrification Partnership.

Does PNG have a power outage?

In fact, PNG's power outage has been reported as the highest in the Pacific, at nearly 355 times per customer in a single year. There are also concerns that the cost of electricity in 'grid-connected' areas is more than six times the OECD's average cost per unit of electricity .

What is the PNG electrification partnership?

The PNG government signed a US$1.7 billion multilateral agreement with the governments of Australia, Japan, New Zealand and the USA to establish the PNG Electrification Partnership . The primary purpose of the Partnership is to support PNG to achieve its ambitious goal of connecting 70% of the population with reliable electricity by 2030.
